

News Release

martinwolf* Adds Five to its IT M&A Advisory Team

New hires add to the firm's finance and industry expertise while broadening its international reach

San Ramon, California, February 1, 2012 – martinwolf, a global middle market IT M&A advisory, today announced the addition of five professionals to the firm. The new hires will support the firm's growth in its areas of industry specialization, including IT outsourcing and managed services, and a push into new international markets such as China and enhancing the firm's presence in India.

According to Marty Wolf, Founder and President, "We are seeing increased demand in three categories of M&A: more mid-market cross-border activity; more sellers looking to exit before the capital gains tax increase at year-end; and more buy side activity from consolidators looking to leverage new geographies, capabilities and their interest in the cloud. These new team members bring experience and expertise that will support servicing this demand."

The new professionals are:

Geoff Rhizor, Associate

Geoff Rhizor returns to martinwolf as an Associate after a stint with Wedbush Securities as an Associate in its Technology Investment Banking Group. Geoff worked for martinwolf from April 2008 to August 2010, where he gained extensive experience in the IT Services, BPO and IT Supply Chain Services industries. In his career, he has closed transactions with Global Analytics; Synchronoss (Nasdaq:SNCR); Canvas Systems; Limelight Networks (Nasdaq:LLNW); Rolta India Ltd (BSE: 500366); Innovative Process

Administration; Kenexa (NYSE:KNXA); Callidus Software (Nasdaq:CALD); Valtech SA (ENXTPA:LTE); Atrinsic (Nasdaq:ATRN); and DLT Solutions. Geoff is a FINRA registered broker and graduated cum laude from Boston University with a B.S. in Business Administration specializing in Finance and Law and a minor in History.

Steve Hollich, Analyst

Steve Hollich joins the firm from Bank of America Merrill Lynch where he worked underwriting credit for IT Outsourcing, SaaS, and IT Infrastructure Services companies in Silicon Valley. Steve received his B.B.A. from the University of Wisconsin, Madison with dual degrees in Finance and Real Estate.

Nora Swithenbank, Analyst

Nora Swithenbank previously worked in Syndicated and Leveraged Finance in the Investment Banking division of JPMorgan Chase. Nora has a B.A. in Economics with a minor in Film Studies from Tufts University.

Stefan Williams, Analyst

Stefan Williams previously worked as an interest rate derivatives trader for OSTC in London. Stefan received a MSc Masters in Finance from Warwick Business School and earned a BSc with Honors in Financial Economics from the University of Leicester in the United Kingdom.

Francis Cui, Intern Analyst

Francis Cui will serve as an Intern Analyst for the firm and support business development in China. Currently a senior at the University of California, Berkeley, majoring in Political Economy, Francis has worked as an interpreter at the U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (Department of Homeland Security) and as a manager in the International Student Services Department at Neway Immigration Service Center.

About martinwolf

martinwolf is the world's leading middle market IT M&A advisory. Since 1997, the firm has completed more than 100 transactions in six countries. Its knowledge and experience with IT outsourcing and managed services combined with its disciplined approach, which includes a proprietary, proven, step-by-step work plan customized for each client, has produced one of the highest transaction completion rates in the industry.

martinwolf is a member of the Merrill Lynch PS Referral Network and is an exclusive strategic partner to ICICI Bank, India's leading private bank) for acquiring U.S. IT companies. Member FINRA, SIPC. For more information, visit <http://www.martinwolf.com>.

Media Contact:

For martinwolf

Rob Wyse

212-920-1470

rob@WT211.com